Contractor for First Public Art Project Selected

Kerrville- The City of Kerrville's Main Street Program is another step closer to making the City's first public art piece a reality. Last week JM Lowe and Company was selected as the construction contractor for the site for the piece to be installed at Earl Garrett and Main Streets.

The Design Committee of the Main Street Advisory Board began working on an Art in Public place initiative three years ago when the group determined our city needed true public art. Chaired by local architect Peter Lewis, the committee members Lee Fry, Kyle Bond, Matt Sletten and Scott Rain recommended the Main Street Advisory Board contact internationally recognized James Avery to do the inaugural piece.

The fourteen foot sculpture, Mother's Love, designed by Mr. James and fabricated by San Antonio artist Ted Voss will be erected in time for a Mother's Day weekend dedication.

Director of Business Programs Mindy Wendele said 'We are very pleased to have JM Lowe & Company on board to build the site for our first art piece. Working with local architect Mark Eubank, the Avery family and Lowe and company will be guarantee an art piece we can be proud of for generations. '
